Educational Post Draft Prompt

Use this prompt for first-draft educational content. Do not publish without review.

Write a patient-friendly educational post about [TOPIC] for a dental practice audience. Requirements: Keep the tone clear, warm, and non-alarming. Avoid diagnosis, treatment promises, or guaranteed outcomes. Use "may," "can," and "is associated with" when appropriate. Include a reminder to discuss individual concerns with a qualified dental or medical professional. End with a gentle call to action to schedule a consultation or ask a question.

Human Review Checklist

- No diagnosis claim.
- No cure, reversal, or guaranteed outcome.
- No patient-specific advice.
- No unsupported clinical claim.
- No unapproved before-and-after promise.
- Clear distinction between education and individualized care.

Example Topic List

- Why gums can bleed and when to ask a dentist.
- How airway and sleep can relate to dental health.
- What patients should know before an implant consultation.
- How dental teams evaluate biological dentistry questions.
